I would like to recommend the book named “Harry Potter and the Philosopher’s stone” written by J.K.Rowling. It is a fantasy. In this book, the main character Harry Potter has no idea how famous he is because he is raised by his miserable aunt and uncle. They are terrified that Harry will know his real identity – a wizard, just as his parents were, so they try to hide his existence. But everything changes when Harry is summoned to attend a school for wizards, and he begins to discover some clues about his illustrious birthright. From the surprising way he is greeted by a lovable giant and enrolled in a colourful faculty at Hogwarts School of Witchcraft and Wizardry, where Harry finds himself drawn deep inside a mystical world he never knew existed and closer to his own noble destiny.

After you read this book, you will treasure what you have and know not everything is granted in the real world. However, with persistence and determination, you can end up with success like what Harry does.
