It all started when Geronimo was late as he couldn't sleep that night due to the heavy rain. He promised his nephew, Benjamin, that he would bring him to school that day.

When they arrived at Benjamin's school, he spotted a blonde and gorgeous rodent who was Benjamin's teacher. It was love at the first sight for him. In class, Geronimo tripped over Punk Rat, the class bully's leg. His glasses fell to the ground. He couldn't see a thing. The teacher asked Geronimo if a trip to Niagara Falls was all right to him. Geronimo the 'blind' mouse mistook 'Niagara Falls' for 'The Mouse Island', his office. He immediately nodded his head in agreement. When the class bully put on his glasses for him, Geronimo was extremely angry.

In the plane to Niagara Falls, although he had the window seat, he couldn't see the beautiful Falls because all the little mice crowded around the window. After a few days, Geronimo was so in love with Miss Angel Paws that he went up to ask her if she was married. Benjamin's teacher burst into tears when she heard that. The marvelous lady told Geronimo her sad story. After chit-chatting, it started to rain. Suddenly, Miss Angel Paw's fiancé appeared. They were stunned. Geronimo was very sad but happy for them.

The next day, when they were on their way back, there was a fire in the forest. All the mice helped to put out the fire. Then a miracle happened. A plane carrying an enormous tank filled with water extinguished the fire.

That night, the two mice announced that they were getting married at Niagara Falls immediately. They had a wonderful wedding with the help of Thea, Geronimo's sister.
